IN THE SPECIFICATION

— In responding to a caller, the caller interaction is outlined in a caller handling procedure 800. The caller first receives a Greeting Message 801 that articulates the message "Hello, welcome to Talk 411. I am your local business guide to instant savings. Please speak clearly. You can cut me off anytime. You can also bypass my prompts by saying some keywords such as member, coupon, or BayHits." Next the caller hears the Main Menu 802 message that articulates "If you want me to find a business for you, say the name or type of business. You may also ask for coupons or a list of Bay Hits businesses for a particular type of business by saying something like "Pizza Coupons" or "Bay Hits Restaurants". If you are a member, just say "Member". Upon speaking a selection from the available choices, the caller is directed to the selected category, here one of 803: Business Name Spoken 803, Business Type Spoken 804, or Member Spoken 805.
